Fire at School for Deaf in Russia Kills 28 Boys

From the newsroom of The Moscow Times, Moscow, Russia, Thursday, April 10, 2003

MAKHACHKALA, Dagestan -- A fire roared through a boarding school for the deaf early Thursday, killing 28 little boys as they slept, unable to hear calls of alarm.

Firemen and policemen were able to save 131 of their schoolmates, but 106 of them remained hospitalized Thursday suffering from burns and smoke inhalation, with 22 of them in intensive care wards, local emergency officials said. The tragedy occurred just three days after a fire at a rural Siberian school took the lives of 22 children, and Prime Minister Mikhail Kasyanov on Thursday ordered an urgent assessment of fire safety in all Russian schools. Dagestani investigators said they suspected the fire was caused by a short circuit, the same explanation offered by those investigating the fire in the Siberian republic of Sakha.

The latest fire began late Wednesday in the school's assembly hall, adjacent to the main two-story building of yellow limestone bricks, local firemen said. At about 2 a.m. Thursday, perhaps smelling smoke, someone opened the door to the hall, creating a powerful backdraft. Flames surged into the main building and set ablaze the stairs leading to the dormitories on the second floor, the firemen said.

Ramazan Kurbanov, who lives near the school, was among the first who came running. "The corridor on the second floor was on fire and the only way to get the children out was through the windows," he said. "The firemen crews that arrived on the spot had no ladders with them, and we, the neighbors, brought them ours." The rescue operation was slowed because each child had to be awakened individually because they could not hear the alarms, witnesses said. "When seemingly all the children had been rescued from several dormitories, someone shouted that some of them could be hiding under beds, and the firemen climbed into the windows again. Indeed, several scared kids were saved then from under the furniture," Kurbanov said. Girls and boys slept in separate dormitories, which is why the children who died were all boys, most of them among the youngest at the school, emergency officials said. The pupils ranged in age from 7 to 14.

It took three hours for 17 fire-fighting crews to put out the fire, which was fanned by high winds. On Thursday morning, thin smoke still swirled from the debris on the school's second floor. Charred children's shoes and boots were scattered across the floor. The ground floor, where the classrooms were located, looked almost intact except for the shattered windows.

Of the school's 220 students, only 159 were sleeping there the night of the fire, Dagestani officials said. The children's parents rushed to the school Thursday morning. Women

President's Report from Anita Steichen

This is an important year for SCAD! Do you all realize that SCAD has been incorporated since June 6, 1973? It is SCAD's 30th year incorporation anniversary!! Helen Maddox was the president at that time when she had SCAD incorporated with a lot of help from attorney, Dick James, whose mom is still alive and is 101 years old (Louise James). SCAD waited for 6 months before it became incorporated in June 1973. We will celebrate the 30th anniversary at the SCAD Conference during the Awards dinner on Friday evening, June 12th. Please COME and help us CELEBRATE the 30th anniversary of incorporation. After all that SCAD has gone through, we are still standing STRONG!

Please mark your calendar for the SCAD 2003 Conference in Greenville, SC on June 12-14, 2003. I encourage every one of you to go to the conference and be supportive of SCAD. I know that Debbie West and her planning committee have an excellent conference planned, and you won't want to miss it!

To update everyone on the Executive Director position, I am sad to announce that the candidate who applied for the Executive Director position and who was interviewed, has declined SCAD's job offer. The Search Committee is now continuing to search for a new Executive Director, and again, I will keep each Chapter representative up to date with the new developments of the Search Committee.

I was fortunate to attend the LCC Rally on March 22, 2003. This year, Sprint and CSD honored one of South Carolina's assets Mr. George Adams for all of the work he has done on behalf of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing Community. If you happen to see George in your travels, please offer him your congratulations. As always, the LCC Rally was a tremendous success and a big South Carolina PAH goes to Susie Adams for her excellent planning of another great event.

I am looking forward to seeing you all at the Conference in Greenville!

sobbed loudly on the street outside, but some of them calmed down when municipal officials standing near the scorched school told them that their children were alive.

All surviving children were taken to Makhachkala hospitals, and the officials had lists of who was where. Some of the children were released to their parents on Thursday. Kasyanov said Thursday that the fire in the Makhachkala school seems to be part of systemic problem. He ordered the Education Ministry to check all Russian schools for fire safety and the condition of their electrical system. Earlier this week, the ministry told Izvestia that 700 schools had been damaged by fire in 2002. According to Emergency Situations Ministry figures, 750 Russian children died in fires last year, and not all of them in schools. Deputy Prosecutor General Sergei Fridinsky traveled to Makhachkala on Thursday to head up the fire investigation.

President Vladimir Putin said the authorities will do everything in their power to help the families of the dead and injured children. "These are our common children, this is our common tragedy," Putin said in remarks read by an anchor on Channel One television. State Duma deputies stood in memory of the dead children on Thursday. "The Americans in these several days lost fewer people [in Iraq,] than we did in two or three days when a total of 50 children died in fires," Deputy Valery Dorogin said, Interfax reported.

A day of mourning was declared in Dagestan on Friday, when the dead children will be buried, Interfax reported, citing the speaker of the republic's parliament, Mukhu Aliyev. Several bodies still needed to be identified, he said.

SCBDA Celebration a Success!

SC Black Deaf advocates (SCBDA) had a Black History Month Celebration from 10:00AM to 5:00PM on Saturday, February 22, 2003 at the Department of Mental Health (Craft Farrow Building) in Columbia, SC. The title of our celebration was "Overcoming Barriers in the Deaf Community" and the guest speaker was Mr. Frank Houston, who is the father of the organization's current president, Ms. Jackie McDonald. We had approximately 35 people in attendance and that included the Secretary of the SC Association of the Deaf (SCAD) and her husband, who helped to grace the occasion with us.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

The event began with a prayer and then a presentation by Mr. Houston who talked about some Biblical research findings about the black son of Noah that contradict some of what we are told today. There was an African fashion show and all the attendees were treated to delicious soul food. We also used the event to update members and those in attendance on some of the current trends and issues affecting our national organization (NBDA) and to work on nominations for the SCAD awards to be conducted during their 42nd Biennial conference to be held in Greenville, SC from June 12-15, 2003.

Special thanks to the celebration committee members: Ann Jones,

Liz Richardson, Kedrick Jones, Zellie Meadows, AnnaMaree White, and Patty Manigo for their hard work in making the event possible.

Now, we have the following events lined up..May 3, 2003..Spring Fever cookout (all-you-can-eat) at D.W. 's Place on the Green in Kingtree,SC. Please contact Patty Manigo at jpmanigo@juno.com for more information. We will also have Board & General meetings on May 31. Mr. Bill Daron, the current Director of TEDP program under SCSDB Outreach Services Department, will make a presentation. On June 21, 2002, we will have a the next Board & general meetings and a talent/fashion show. Please mark your calendar for these events.

Lyman Couple To Serve on National Organization for Deaf Children

LYMAN – A Lyman couple has been named to the board of directors of the American Society for Deaf Children.

Roger and Sherry Williams will serve a three-year term on the national board. The American Society for Deaf Children (ASDC) was founded in 1967. It is an independent, non-profit organization dedicated to providing support, encouragement and information to families raising children who are deaf or hard of hearing. The group advocates for the highest quality programs and services for children who are deaf. The Williams will attend their first ASDC board meeting March 28-29 in Mount Dora, Fla.

Williams is the program manager of deaf services for the Piedmont Center for Mental Health, and Mrs. Williams is a teacher at the S.C. School for the Deaf and the Blind (SCSDB). They are the parents of two SCSDB students – Glenn, a fifth grader in the School for the Deaf, and Kate, a first grader in the School for the Deaf. They also are the parents of two

SCSDB Student Named to All-American Basketball Team

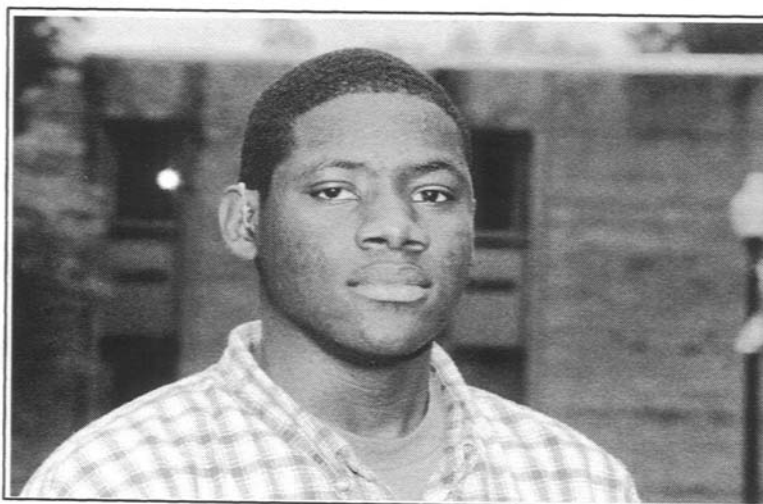

A Columbia student has received a national honor for his talents on the basketball court.

Xavier Williams, a sophomore at the SC School for the Deaf and Blind, has been named to the Deaf All-American Basketball Team by the National Fraternity Society of the Deaf. The honor was published in Silent News—a national publication of the Deaf community. Williams, 16, is the son of Lillian Williams of Columbia.

Williams plays forward on the SCSDB varsity boys' basketball team. He averages 15.6 points and 11 rebounds per game. He was named to the Viking Classic All-Star Team in Knoxville, Tenn. and to the first

hearing children — Heather, a senior at Boston University, and Brian, a freshman at Northwestern University.

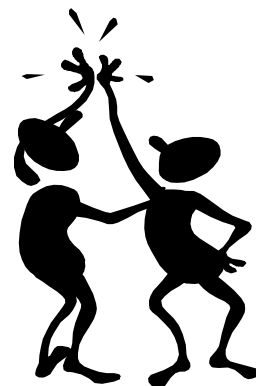

The Williams are members of the SCSDB School Improvement Council. Mrs. Williams is the president of the Western Piedmont Association for the Deaf and former president and board member of the S.C. Association for the Deaf. Mr. Williams is former president and board member of the S.C. Registry of Interpreters of the Deaf.

Both the Williams have served as raters for the National Interpreter Certification program in South Carolina, and Mrs. Williams is a member of the advisory council for the Spartanburg Technical College Interpreter Training Program.

Mr. Williams also is a member of the Federal Disaster Crisis Management Team and has been called to Florida and North Carolina in the wake of hurricanes to help mental health centers deal with the disasters. He provided counseling, support services and training to their staffs.

News from the SC Deaf Golfers' Association

The South Carolina Deaf Golfers Association had their first golf tournament of the year in Charleston, SC on Saturday, March 22. Sixteen golfers participated in the Captain's Choice tournament at the Golf Club at Westcott Plantation in North Charleston. Mike Bates, Fred Dangerfield, Harold Jesse, and Joe Healey, Jr. won as team in the tournament. We were happy to start our golfing season in Charleston under sunny skies and low humidity! Most of us went to 30th annual LCC Rally banquet after the tournament. Thanks to Rodney Saunders, Sr. for doing a good job as host chairperson for our first tournament of the year! SCDGA had their second golf tournament in Mauldin, SC on Saturday, April 19. Twenty golfers participated in the individual tournament. Jerry Nine won the tournament. Congratulations to Jerry! Thanks to Vic Cassell for doing good job as host chairperson for our second monthly golf tournament.

Be looking forward to our third monthly golf tournament in Spartanburg, SC on Saturday, May 24. Ronnie Riddle, Sr. is the host chairperson for the tournament. We will go to Ronnie's cookout after the tournament. The cookout proceeds will support the Miss Deaf South Carolina Pageant. Hope you can come join us in fellowship at the cookout on May 24 to help support the Miss Deaf South Carolina Pageant. Look for the flyer on our website.

At our annual meeting on February 22, 2003, were named our annual two-day SCDGA championship to Albert Gibson, Sr. Memorial Championship. Albert Gibson was one of SCDGA founders and participated in the SCDGA golf tournaments since 1976. He was selected to the Southeastern Deaf Golfers Association Hall of Fame in 1996. He played his last SCDGA monthly golf tournament on Saturday, August 31, 2003. The SCDGA Albert Gibson, Sr., Memorial Championship will be held at the Cheraw State Park golf course on the weekend of October 11, 2003.

We are looking forward to many good events in our golfing year!

By-Laws for Vote and Approval at the SCAD Conference in June

I. These are the proposals for Restructuring the SCAD Board: There were four proposals made by SCAD members at the Special Conference in May 2002. Members will vote on ONE of the four at the Conference in June 2003.

- A. 6 year, 4 year and 2 year members-at-large should remain on the board
- B. The Board would be: President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary and four additional Vice-Presidents that would focus on task forces such as membership, bylaws, etc. There would be no members-at-large.
- C. The Board would be: President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary and one member-at-large. The member-at-large would report to Board members what the representatives want.
- D. The Board would be the main four officers (President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary). All other

Board members would be removed.

The Bylaws Committee recommends Proposal C with the maximum of five Board members: President, Vice-President, Secretary/Treasurer and two members-at-large.

The two members-at-large would focus on communication and developing memberships, etc. The members-at-large would focus on one region each. The new regions would be 1) Upstate, Columbia and Western SC and 2) Low Country, Coastal and Eastern SC.

Board members will also serve on ADHOC committees. Since SCAD has its own accountant, there is no need for a separate treasurer to keep accounts. The secretary would get information about accounts from the accountant and share it with us at the regular Board meetings.

2. Members will also vote on the change in Membership Dues at the SCAD Convention in June 2003.

- Regular Membership (Adults up to age 65)-- $15.00
- Senior Membership (Adults over the age of 65)--$12.00
- Youth Membership (with a valid student identification from a secondary or postsecondary school)-- $10.00

The prices are based on individuals. There will be no married couple membership option. Each individual will receive the Association's official publication "South Carolina News" for the duration of their membership.

FISHING NEWS By Bassin' Bob

On Saturday March 1, the South Carolina Bass Anglers of The Deaf kicked off the new year by fishing at Lake Wateree State Park. Six anglers showed up to brave the steady rain and 49 degree cold water that made fishing a challenge.

Larry Barnes (Spartanburg), a substitute fisherman walked away with top honors with a catch of one lunker, a 17 inch fish weighting 2 pounds and 9 ounces. Larry caught his prize early in the morning and survived the day with no challengers. The closest anyone came to catching Larry was Michael Whittle (Aiken), bragging about the 2 fish that got away.

The South Carolina Bass Anglers of the Deaf had their third fishing tournament of the year on Saturday, April 12 at Ebenezer Park on Lake Wylie. The weather was beautiful with temperatures hovering in the low seventies and the water temperature 59 degrees. Due to recent rains throughout the week and a higher than normal water level, fishing was difficult.

Richard Hiott(Charleston) won his first tournament ever by rallying with 30 minutes left before weigh-in, by catching a whopper 19 inch, 2 pound 10 ounce lunker bass. Congratulations are due to Richard Hiott for preventing second place finisher Bob Morrow (Spartanburg) from sweeping the field. Bassin Bob had caught his 1 pound 2 ounce bass early in the morning.

Our next tournament will be the SCBAD Classic at Harrys Fish

Camp at the Santee Cooper lakes on April 26 and 27. This tourna-
